

Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America
WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

July 29, 1958

Mr. Robert O. P. Yu
Manager
Bank of China
40 Wall Street
New York 5, New York

Dear Mr. Yu:

While keenly aware of your apprehension in having the historic Bank of China confused in the public mind with the like named communist organization, we believe you have little to fear on this score. As pointed out by Mr. Grogan, in the context of Mr. Dulles' remarks it is quite clear that he was referring to the communist's Bank of China and not your institution.

We have received many complimentary letters concerning Mr. Dulles' remarks at our Annual Meeting, but none indicated any confusion between the communist institution and that of the National Government. You may, however, rest assured that should we learn of any such misunderstanding, we shall act promptly to set the record straight.

Cordially yours,

bc: Mr. Grogan
Assistant to the Director
CIA